No kiss goodbye
You got your suitcase
Fake a smile through one last wave
I'm memorize, each step that you take
Trying to make a memory that won't ever fade
Cause this could be the last time
What if it's the last time

Watching you walk away
Wishing that you would stay
Wondering what to say
All this watchin and wishin and wonderin is hard to take
Watching you walk away

I let you go,
Set your heart free
If it's love then you will come back to me
Well that's what they say
I hope it's true
As I fight back tears you disappear in the blue
You get a little farther
It gets a little harder

Watching you walk away
Wishing that you would stay
Wondering what to say
All this watchin and wishin and wonderin is hard to take
Watching you walk away

The hardest part is knowing that there's nothing that I can do
Standing here watching you
Standing here watching you

Watching you walk away
Wishing that you would stay
Wondering what to say
All this watchin and wishin and wonderin is hard to take
No I never thought I'd be standing right here today

Watching you walk away
