Ah, what you say
What you say
What you say

The queen sits high on a throne I built with my own two hands
When her king goes out at night alone, She calls a backdoor man
I'm good at building temples, but I'm better in the bunk
Late at night she calls me to electrify her funk

I said the queen she grooves me all night long
My funky little baby
I said the queen she grooves me all night long
My funky little baby

She got the king for the money, and me for the show
I'm her number one servant and I'm always good to go
That fat cats always lazy he don't keep her satisfied
I'm slim Jim trimmer layin' shady on the side

I said, the queen she grooves me all night long
My funky little baby
I said, the queen she grooves me all night long
My funky little baby

She said come here boy
Come hither, Come hither

I said, the queen she grooves me all night long
My funky little baby
I said, the queen she grooves me all night long
My funky little baby
