Show me where I have to go 'cause I'm not sure right now

Like climbing up bedford was such a piece of cake

Today and this old ice cream truck looked like a wonderful thing

But I don't know if it's because it's brooklyn, ny

Or because it's where you sleep at night

And not at night...

Show me the roof

Show me the roof if it's where I have to go

Show me somewhere I don't know

And where my friends can't follow

I wish I could watch over your naps

Whisper things when you are sleeping

Penetrating your brain and installing myself in

Like a huge fucked up comforting software taking over

Anything that could make you worry

I don't know though

Just where I'm at right now, but you can nap me in

For a try
