It's a familiar scene you're standing silent i'm starting to shout i'm sick of this routine just say what you mean why don't you ever let it out? but you don't say you don't say anything you don't say but i know just what you're thinking it's your way and it gets us nowhere fast i think that it's a sin the way we let it get so out of hand so where can i begin if you never let me in how can i ever understand?

it's an infection
this direction gets us nowhere fast when did we lose it?
we lost it all
i know
