It was your heartbeat that I heard on the line
It was the distance that kept me up all night
Thinking of the things that I had to do
So I could keep this real and always be with you

It was the moment and the sound of your voice
And in that moment, left me without a choice
Come on now tell me what you want
Tell me how you feel
If you're looking for an answer then I promise you

If you feel, if you feel you're on your own
Do not be afraid, for you are not alone

Give my apologies to the one I love
For my selfish heart and circumstances of
I know these photographs will keep my memories real
Until I find another medium

It was the moment and a flash of light
It was the moment and God your silver eyes
Come on now tell me what you want, tell me how you feel

If you're looking for an answer then I promise you

If you feel, if you feel you're on your own
Do not be afraid, for you are not alone
If you feel, if you feel you're on your own
Do not be afraid, for you are not alone

You are not alone
You are not alone

If you feel, if you feel you're on your own
Do not be afraid, for you are not alone
If you feel, if you feel you're on your own
Do not be afraid, for you are not alone

Give my apologies to the one I love
For my selfish heart and circumstances of
I know these photographs will keep my memories real

Until I find another medium
You are not alone
You are not alone
You are not alone
