

Hesitant Ballad "Seasons"

Visit "Seasons" on MotoLyrics.com

Caught in the past remembering you
Wish I could know what happened to you
Wish i could ease the pain with some love that is true

Caught in the lies you had to tell me
About the fact you really were free
Because the passion was too strong to let it be

Summer winter seasons of my life
Autumn springtime, seasons of my mind
Wish i could be everything at least tonight

Wish i could live everything just one more time

Wish i could fly all over the night
Wish i could run the days of my life
Just to see if a wedding ring's on your left hand

Thinking of you and havin good time
Just like the sun you moonlight my mind
Now I'm afraid to waste those memories of our lives

There is something you should know
