It's all good

Clever clap of lightning
Flash before the sound
The dark heart is dawning
There's no one else around

Violate me like an animal
Like you always do
While the dark heart is dawning
And the sky is as black as you

I came up in it, I crash down in it
It's all good
I feel complete in it, I black out in it
It's all good

I came up in it, I crash down in it
It's all good
I feel complete in it, I black out in it
It's all good

Burning branches of synaptic fire
Surf the serotonin swells
While the dark heart is dawning
And cuts the wound that nothing quells

Impotent in your hatred
I've been cut but never bled
Though your dark heart is dawning
This child can see a light ahead

Though I came up in it, I'm not defined by it
It's all good
I felt complete in it, now cuttin' free of it
It's all good

And in the age of love, you came and split my heart
And in the rage of love, you taught the joy in pain
And in the age of love, I found my sacred place
Where I can hide from the dark heart that's dawning
like now

Yeah, yes yeah, from the dark heart that's dawning
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah, yeah

And in the age of love, you came and split my heart
And in the rage of love, you taught the joy in pain
And in the age of love, I found my sacred place
Where I can hide from the dark heart that's dawning
like now

Dark heart dawning
Calm's still coming
Waves keep rising
Time keeps takin' her time

Dark heart dawning
