Do you cry your eyes asleep?
Is it peace you seek at night when your body's weak?
Did it leave you with the scars, of a war-torn ravaged heart?
Do you cry your eyes asleep?

Life is music, music was your every move slow to fast pace drops and kicks to a demo
I've always loved your tempo your pain loving furry take a breath, take sip, ayy-
'Cause then my visions blurry, speech is slurry hands are tangled finger tips feel like ice but if you love life I guess your alright 'cause your soul is with Christ

Do you cry your eyes asleep?
Is it peace you seek at night when your body's weak?
Did it leave you with the scars, of a war-torn ravaged heart?
Do you cry your eyes asleep?

Two months pass friends they come and they go
Cuz seen two men turn to angels take their place by the throne
In the end (yeah) nobody gets out alive so do what ya
can (uh-huh) while you're here and survive Gods honest truth man.
We can learn from the deaths so remember the best forget about the less and take your less and never slip to your stress 'n' one more thing, maximize all your smiles cuz we're gone love is certain, tribulations and trials
At the place break the chains free your soul say goodbye but never forget when ya forget you grow cold and you die

Do you cry your eyes asleep?
Is it peace you seek at night when your body's weak?
Did it leave you with the scars, of a war-torn ravaged heart?
Do you cry your eyes asleep?

I flex my jaw held my breast feel my breath wipe a tear from eye look up, say to my Lord if should forget I should die but now spare any hate Cuz I can't hold ya, hold ya down sit that grin and grasp- you like I told ya
