Lies as Carrie told with
One hand in emotion
One hand in the ocean
Reaching 'round for buried gold
And me so naive you knew that
I'd believe in anything at all

But I stay, I stall
Stood tall as the ship was sinking
Looked on but I often think if she were the one to fall
I'd believe in anything at all
Anything at all

Alive and ever so high
From all the commotion
All night in the ocean swimming round
Her waves are slow
And me so naive you knew that
I'd believe in anything at all
Anything at all

But I stay, I stall
You were on the impression that we'd never talk
'Til you made the call
I was all for the future
When the future was possible

So I stand when called
Living on an impression that she never got
Never stay or stall
I was all for the future
When the future was possible.
