Tracing the silver lines of the moon with our eyes
We both knew it was time
With your finger you traced every line
Every angle of my face
Never wanting to leave this place

Time took it's toll and we lost any sort of control
We once had before closing the door
This was going to be our last mistake
A quick inhale
A fast intake

We tried to take it slow but
No
It wasn't an option in our state of mind
Anything that was left was left behind

We are the only ones who knew this kind of love
I promise you this
Skies above had nothing to do with it
No
No

We are the only ones who knew this kind of love
I promise you this
Skies above had nothing to do with it
No
No
No

With the war all around there was no other sound
And our eyes they were stung by the light of the sun that was fast rising
I grabbed your hand in mine
Our fingers intertwined

Any face that we saw was so unrecognisable now
And we didn't know how every familiar thing we once knew disappeared
I was trying to hear you through the crowd of people screaming

For their souls in a world that they would obey
You and I looked the other way knowing

We are the only ones who knew this kind of love
I promise you this
Skies above had nothing to do with it
No
No

We are the only ones who knew this kind of love
I promise you this
Skies above had nothing to do with it
No
No
No

This is gonna be our last mistake
We won't find out 'til it's too late
I wonder if she's gonna stay
I left before he was awake

This is gonna be our last mistake
(Ah)
We won't find out 'til it's too late
I wonder if she's gonna stay
(Ah)
I left before he was awake

We are the only ones who knew this kind of love
(We won't find out 'til it's too late)
I promise you this
Skies above had nothing to do with it
(I left before he was awake)
