Something that they deserve more
Give a little like it's become a chore
Don't demand things and walk yourself out the door

I fell flat on my face too many times
Left with nothing but some cheap perfume
Now you cry, now you need me
Now that perfume's not cheap but I told you

If you wanted to be my only one
If you wanted to see this happen
Maybe you, you should've tried harder

If you thought I would leap into your arms
Every time I would see your face
Then maybe you, you should've tried harder

Go on, prove it, I'd love to see you try
Convince me that you gave me the world
I tried and tried but you never opened your eyes
You stand tall like you've won some kind of award
But really I've never seen someone so short of a dollar
If you gave me some more but I told you

If you wanted to be my only one
If you wanted to see this happen
Maybe you, you should've tried harder

If you thought I would leap into your arms
Every time I would see your face
Then maybe you, you should've tried harder

Something that they deserve more
Give a little bit

If you wanted to be my only one
If you wanted to see this happen
Maybe you, you should've tried harder

If you thought I would leap into your arms
Every time I would see your face
Then maybe you, you should've tried harder
