

Hey Monday "Too Soon"

The way the water was Us wading just above
Up in a golden tree
Peering through yellow leaves
We sat there searching for our spirit animals
Mine up in on the shore
We never once saw yours
You scraped your stomach on the bark
I cried up to you in the dark
Awake before the moon but it came far too soon
Oh

Is it too soon to say it
Is it too soon to wanna say it to you
To you

Is it too soon to say it loud
Is it too soon to wanna say it to you
To you

Tonight I'm gonna fill your guitar with pigeons So next time you're left with just the rhythms as you'll be down on wings
It's time you sing this out loud
You will hear the beats from the street birds beaks
As they fly to me from the south

Is it too soon to say it
Is it too soon to wanna say it to you
To you

Is it too soon to say it loud
Is it too soon to wanna say it to you
To you

The words
Well they slip and they slip right through and I don't mean to

Oh
The words

Well they slip and they slip right through and I don't mean to

Oh
The words
Well they slip and they slip right through and I don't mean to

Is it too soon to say it
Is it too soon to wanna say it to you
To you

Is it too soon to say it loud
Is it too soon to wanna say it to you
To you
