I am a heart that's hard to pin
You are an arrow sticking in
I pull you out and put you down
With all the others, scattered 'round

You won't give up that easy though
You turn to roots, a tree you grow
Your ivy walls can't keep me in
I am a heart that's hard to pin

I am a heart that's hard to pin
You dig a hole and I fall in
But I'm still beating underground
Down here you think I won't be found

I won't give up that easy though
My heart's the seed, a tree will grow
My bark will be a thicker skin
I am a heart that's hard to pin

Oh, you can't win
Mine is just a little hard
Hard to pin
No, you can't win
Mine is just a little hard
Hard to pin

I am a heart that's hard to pin
You are an arrow sticking in
To pin me down's the hardest part
I am a heart
