Yeah, yeah, yeah, oh

I'm on, I'm grown, I'm so in my zone
You ain't gotta tell me, I know this my home
Throw me my phone, let me call up anybody
Who don't know about it? And tell 'em

I am him, pale and not so slim
But I shine bright even when it's dark and grim
She marched on in but she far from a saint
No use pretendin' that you are what you ain't

'Cause you're startin' to taint what once was pure
Irregardless I must endure
'Cause what's for sure, is that I am blessed
Just give me what I'm owed and I might get rest

See, slight success only brings more hunger
But don't you mistake lightning for thunder
'Cause thunder just rumbles, lightning strikes
Like me of great faith, then white's hype

Why your rims spin, spinnin'? I ain't slept ten minutes
No shut eye 'til this business right here is finished
I came for that big spinach and I can't get it with image
All I can do is spit vintage again and again and again

Just draw the play up and run it
Vision, something that's great, I've become it
I played it and won it and profited it from it
A wonderful life and with honor I've done it

But you gotta confront it, it's permanent shorty
Feel the flames is burnin' you softly
Yes, these lames is certainly salty
That's how I know that the burden off me

All I really ever wanted in my whole life
Was to stay the whole night, in the morning no flight
To have my own wife, instead of havin' to borrow
Johnny's in Philly and Chad's in Toronto

I ask for a lot though, thus I accept it
I'm gonna die lonely, big money's my homey
So Betty, why don't we proceed to the suite?
My pet snake skeet, so eager to meet, yeah

Why your rims spin, spinnin'? I ain't slept ten minutes
No shut eye 'til this business right here is finished
I came for that big spinach and I can't get it with image
All I can do is spit vintage again and again and again

I'm special, especially when these lames is next to me
Every check I see, bring the flex outta me
Girl, I'll pay for your love and the sex I'll free

Okay, don't play, you gon' stay, then stay
But if you afraid of livin', then you ain't really wit it
Then please be on your way, with no delay

They say only the strong survive
And it seems that you gotta do wrong to thrive
But the truth ain't dead, I'm so alive
You don't want me to shine? Then close your eyes

Why your rims spin, spinnin'? I ain't slept ten minutes
No shut eye 'til this business right here is finished
I came for that big spinach and I can't get it with image
All I can do is spit vintage again and again and again

Why your rims spin, spinnin'? I ain't slept ten minutes
No shut eye 'til this business right here is finished
I came for that big spinach and I can't get it with image
All I can do is spit vintage again and again and again
