The society have spoken
They don't want us together
But nobody said it's any of their Business, anyway. Oh.

We've had our past
But let it be the past.
It's something we've done,
Something we've learned from.
Something we can not change,
Now we're never alone.
Let's make our future
Worth looking forward to
So you don't need to be scared
There's so much more to do.

Why should we set our future
According to other people's satisfaction?
If we're happy, nothing else matters.

We've had our past
But let it be the past.
It's something we've done,
Something we've learned from.
Something we can not change,
Now we're never alone.
Let's make our future
Worth looking forward to
So you don't need to be scared
There's so much more to do.

Every tear that you cry
A new star is born in the sky.
Every wish that you make
Symbolizes every step you take.

Every tear that you cry
A new star is born in the sky.
Every wish that you make
Symbolizes every step you take.

We've had our past

But let it be the past.
It's something we've done,
Something we've learned from.
Something we can not change,
Now we're never alone.
Let's make our future
Worth looking forward to
So you don't need to be scared
There's so much more to do.

Let's make our future
Worth looking forward to
So you don't need to be scared
There's so much more to do.

Let's make our future
Worth looking forward to
So you don't need to be scared
There's so much more to do...
