Janie got a present late one christmas day
Immaculate conception one could hardly say
She took her little baby and all her daddys cash
The guilt stayed forever but the money didn't last

Chorus

Tell me no more secrets
Tell me no more lies
When the road you thought you were on Aint the road to paradise

She said, what's so lonely about being alone
Ive got this little boy that I can call my own
Tomorrow, she said, were gonna start a new life
She stared out the window and she turned out the light

Chorus

Paradise
Its funny it aint much like...
Leave that girl alone to live her life
Shes been around enough to know what's wrong or right

You don't gotta tell her
You don't gotta tell her it's alright

Janie got pregnant she was the queen of our class
Hot little romance but it didn't last
Last time I saw her it was thanksgiving day
She was trading in her food stamps at the iga

Chorus
