There's a common misbelief that I believe everything
you say,
In spineless calculations in the plans that we made.
Well, talk is cheap when you're flat broke, so you claim.
So I don't know the call but we fell.
I am a foolish man,
I am afraid that you have burned this bridge.

I'm done, I don't wanna hear it.
I don't want to know for sure what is real anymore.

A straight faced lie, say it to my face.
Look me in the eyes.
Just say it to my face.
Oh, so before I go,
I lose my faith in principle, in principle.
We're drowning either way.

I'm done, I don't wanna hear it.
I don't want to know for sure what is real anymore.
I don't want to know for sure what is real anymore.

So back off, so back down to basics now.
We're live and learn somehow.
When the truth comes out sooner or later.
(Sooner or later.)
But I'm already gone

I'm done, I don't wanna hear it.
I don't want to know for sure what is real anymore.

(So back off, so back down to basics now.)
I don't wanna hear it.
(We're live and learn somehow.)
I don't wanna know for sure what is real anymore.
(When the truth comes out sooner or later.)
