somewhere beyond these unforgettable days we can find it in ourselves to live our lives again your misplaced in time, authoring your tragedy but your dreams and lies never fill the void in me so the show goes on without you foundations fall that were once built strong around you and it shows all around you these foundations fall that were once built strong so you lost the words, lost the words to say you lost your voice and you lost your mind again so back it up, rewind, white it out and just forget just close your eyes and promise to never open them again and the show goes on without you

im sorry i'll be gone next summer dont wait for me.....dont wait for me but you said, i need you more than i ever did, so please.. dont go
cause im lost without you im so lost without you
