I know what you've been hoping for
I hear you right outside my door
I won't be falling anymore, for you
I see what you been living for Just like a million times before
I won't be falling this time, for sure
I know why you've been coming here
It's been another lonely year
I never needed anything, from you!
I saw us wind up happily
Then fall away
Another dimming empty sky
For you and i
Take a stroll around to make me sick
Just another semi-cautious trick
Picked up my nietzsche radio - turn it up and here we go again
It's the simplest of rules
Takes a sentimental fool for this to sink
You fell apart but she fell first
That's when the pictures look their worst
I never seem to find the time, but there she goes again
I saw us wind up happily
Then fall away
Another dimming empty sky
For you and i
