So it begins, we take the reign
Your skin corrupt, your lips cocaine
To the wars! We say we go
Are we running hard enough?

You and I and the night
You and I not ever changing
You assign to the fight
Through this battle not worth waging

So it explodes, we make the breaks
A diamond cut from your heartache
Delicacy withstands much pain
But dies when wisdom takes the reigns

You and I and the night
You and I not ever changing
You assign to the fight
Through this battle not worth waging

Oh never ending night
I feel whole, but I feel a hole in my heart
I feel whole, but I feel a hole in my heart
(see it exploding as we make the breaks)

You and I and the night
You and I not ever changing
You assign to the fight
Through this battle not worth waging

Its never changing
This must end tonight
