I broke you when i asked you to breathe
The lights went out, and you asked me to leave Come ride in here, alongside me You'll remember the burning dream

I'm hellbound on you

Oh i'll leave, first admit that it'll never sound the same without me here
Think twice, admit it; i'm never gonna stand here in your way

He stands here and it's all in the past
The lights dimmed down and she asked him to dance Come share this space alongside me We'll burn this day until it's real

I'm hellbound with you

Oh i'll leave, first admit that it'll never be the same
without me here
Think twice, admit it; i'm never gonna stand here in
your way

Can you trust me? can you trust you?

Oh i'll leave, first admit that things wont ever change
without me here
Think twice, admit it; i'm never gonna stand here in
your way
