Policemen smokingpot in the parking lot of a cocktail br
Rockstar junkie dies of an overdose at 27
We watch it on the tube and listen to it on the radio
The thing that baffles me are the things we cannot see

What we gonna read tomorrow?
Something that we see today
Guns and tears and sorrows
What will the headlines read today?

Man of 65 says he's gonna die by the hand of her
Points to a street woman who's had too much to drink
She chased him into a bank where he screamed, "call 911"
The thing that baffles me are the things we cannot see

Party winding down
Then a sudden frown
over a bottle fo wine
She said "That's mine" then a sudden crack
She smashed his face

I guess it can't be seen!
What will the headlines be today?
