Wandering warlord, tales of horror quest and saga snares the batterer Fallen victim taken capture, wheel of pain gives strength to un-mastered

Chained and shackled, earthen toil made to serve the whips and lashes Quench your thirst and drink this bottle
the warrior's chains are self inflicted Lay the steps upon the mountain open gates reveal the temple
Quench your thirst and drink this bottle

Mirrored armor reflects squalor a day will come when I will conquer Take your stand and cross my line the eye Aleph has seen my kind
