Have u seen
the world doesn't care of your life..
Try to realize we're such a small part in the Divine-mind...
There are so many places
and I just want to be there....
Just take my breath of eternity
So many times I have tried to see through the dark realms of my....fantasy
How many times have I said
I won't fall and then stand back on...a senseless road

I am sure we have to preserve what we have inside...
We have the power and we just don't know how to get control
There are so many places

and I just want to be there....
Just take my breath of eternity
So many times I have tried
to see through the dark realms of my....fantasy
How many times have I said
I won't fall and then stand back on...a senseless road

So far but so close I remain here alone... just take my part on this eternity...
