If you see me in some corner looking like all hope is gone,
If you see me sit for hours and you wonder what is wrong,
Well it hurts to talk about it but my world just fell apart,

Chorus

I'm a walking talking crying barely beating broken heart.

Should you see the teardrops falling and the tremble in my hands,
Then you'd know that there's a story that nobody understands,
It's a sad and lonely story but I'll try to make it short,

Chorus

I'm a walking talking crying barely beating broken heart.

Should you wonder how I got this way well listen,listen good,
He left me for another I thought he'd be the last who would,
So I'm trying to forget him looking for a place to start.

Chorus

I'm a walking talking crying barely beating broken heart.
I'm a walking talking crying barely beating broken heart.
