If you see me in some corner looking like all hope is gone,
If you see me sit for hours and you wonder what is wrong,
Well, it hurts to talk about it but my world just fell apart,
Chorus
I'm a walking, talking, crying, barely beaten broken heart.

Could you see the teardrops falling and the tremble in my hands,
Then you know that there's a story that nobody understands,
It's a sad and lonely story but I'll try to make it short.
Chorus
I'm a walking, talking, crying, barely beaten broken heart.

Should you wonder how I got this way, well, listen, listen good,
He left me for another, I thought he'd be the last who would,
So I'm trying to forget him, looking for a place to start.
Chorus
I'm a walking, talking, crying, barely beaten broken heart.
I'm a walking, talking, crying, barely beaten broken heart.
