English translation:

Though I've lived
All this time
All by myself
Unconcerned with destiny
I was awoken by
A flash of light,
In the middle of the night

I quietly stand at the exit
Shooting light at the darkness

Nowadays I wonder if making promises
Will only make things worse.
I just want to tell someone my wish.
I'll introduce you to my family
I'm sure you'll go over well.

No matter what happens
We're always together
No matter what happens
We're by each other's side
A light named you finds me
In the middle of the night.

Go out into a noisy street (When you turn my way)
Take off the mask of destiny. (Take it all away)

Stop doing meaningless things

Like always trying to predict what's gonna happen next.
Let's eat tasty food today.
The future is still way off.
Even I don't know what will happen

Don't complete it
Make it better,
We'll be okay if we take it
One scene at a time.
A light named you reflects my scenario,
On the screen.

Let's talk some more,
About the tomorrow which is just around the bend.
Turn off the TV
an look only at me.

No matter how good it seems
I can't truly believe
At those times
We're with each other.
A light called you finds me
In the middle of the night.

Let's talk some more,
About the tomorrow which is just around the bend.
Turn off the TV
and look only at me.

Let's talk some more,
About the tomorrow which is just around the bend.
Turn off the tv
And look only at me.
