You wake up one day and everything changes you crossed the line and theres no turning back hmmmm your caught between the love and the danger its hard to leave a heart So open up to that chorus:

You wish everytime a star falls from the sky
You wish
That he feel the way you feel inside
You hope and you pray, keep it all locked away as you see yourself lost in his kiss
You wish

You think you know just how to read him and then he throws you right off track and all you know is how much you need him Time will tell you where his heart is really at

You wish
everytime a star falls from the sky
You wish
That he feel the way you feel inside
You hope and you pray, keep it all locked away
as you see yourself lost in his kiss
You wish

Late at night, you wonder what he's thinking of its killing you, and all thats true is your falling deeper in love
You wish
Every time a star falls from the sky
You wish
That he feel the way you feel inside
you hope and you pray, keep it all locked a way and you see yourself lost in his kiss
You wish
Everytime a star falls from the sky
You wish

That he feel the way you feel inside
you hope and you pray, keep it all locked away
as you see yourself lost in his kiss
You wish

yeah hee yeh hee heh yeh heh mmmmm
