So I look to You
So I look to You
No one else will do
No one else will do

I know You love
And I know You died for me
And I know You care
And I know You care

And I know You live again
Your life for all my sin
And now I stand here in
In Your grace again

When I look into the sky above
Wonder how my life has changed
Wonder how Your love, it came to me

When I look into the sky above
And all my fears, so far away
And all I feel is Heaven calling me

So I look to You
So I look to You
No one else will do
No one else will do

I know You love
And I know You died for me
And I know You care
And I know You care

And I know You live again
Your life for all my sin
And now I stand here in
In Your grace again

When I look into the sky above
Wonder how my life has changed
Wonder how Your love, it came to me

When I look into the sky above
And all my fears, so far away
And all I feel is Heaven calling me

So I look to You
So I look to You
No one else will do
No one else will do

So I look to You
So I look to You
No one else will do
No one else will do

When I look into the sky above
Wonder how my life has changed
Wonder how Your love, it came to me

When I look into the sky above
And all my fears, so far away
And all I feel is Heaven calling me

So I look to You
So I look to You
No one else will do
No one else will do

So I look to You
So I look to You
No one else will do
No one else will do

So I look to You
So I look to You
No one else will do
No one else will do

So I look to You
So I look to You
No one else will do
No one else will do

So I look to You
So I look to You
No one else will do
No one else will do

So I look to You
So I look to You
No one else will do
No one else will do
