Where brokenness and mercy meet
How gently shall redemption speak
For love like ocean waves did break
Upon the shores of sin and shame

To you my heart will sing, oh God
For all ones lover keeps this song
In spirit and integrity
To join the song that heavens sing

Scarlet hands that bled for me
Servant, King, my everything
I kneel before you once again
Surrender now to scarlet hands

When sorrow tries my hope to kill
To worship I have reason still
For light will pierce darkest night
And peace shall be my lullaby

Scarlet hands that bled for me
Servant, King, my everything
I kneel before you once again
Surrender now to scarlet hands

(Scarlet Hands, Oh)

The time will fade to after thorns
Into forever shall I walk
In glory's shadow ever free
Redeemer and redeemed to me
