So many things I realise that I can't live without
So many things that I despise until I live them out
There's so many reasons in my brokenness you see
To lose my life and that a servant be my king

I've been crucified with Christ
And I no longer live, Jesus forever is in me

So many words that never say the way I really feel
So many ways to live a life to me I love you real
And there's so many times I know I chose to die to me
To magnify the one who's died to make me free
