To bring this world to life
To heal this heart of mine
Your grace enough, your grace enough

To mend this world in need
To break the chains in me
Your grace enough, now this means love

The weight of all our sin upon His shoulders
We should all be called Your sons and daughters

Father, let heaven and earth collide
In the endless wonder of Your love upon the cross
We will follow and offer this life forever
To see Your love unfold

Adopted as Your own
Alive to make You known
Now this means love, this means love

The weight of all our sin upon His shoulders
We should all be called Your sons and daughters

Father, let heaven and earth collide
In the endless wonder of Your love upon the cross
We will follow and offer this life forever
To see Your love unfold

For the lost and for the broken
For the slave and for the orphan
For everyone to realize Your love

From the famous to the faceless
From the beggar to the king
For everyone to realize Your love

You restore the broken hearted
You bring freedom to the captive
For one and all, forever this means love

All Your children come together
All Your sons and all Your daughters

Your grace enough, forever this means love

Singing, Father, let heaven and earth collide
In the endless wonder of Your love upon the cross
We will follow and offer this life forever
To see Your love unfold

Your grace enough, forever this means love
You gave it all for one and all
Your grace enough, forever this means love
