[Suffa]

Night time in winter, it has a certain atmosphere
I enter, the outer with a leash on my Staffordshire Clasping my right hand, my mask is a darkness
My hoody and my headphones are the B-Boy
Battlegear
My walkman grinds a tape that's been in there since the night before A rapper makes a statement that sends shivers down my spinal chord
Soul is in my walkman, and spirits in my step ah Leash is in my right hand and my pocket hugs my left ah
Night has so much power, when I step I feel the streets scream
It's just a light shower but the rain, it makes the streets steam
It all seems familiar, I know that I've been here before I notice an engravement on the pavement I made years before
The statement from before, finds it's way back into my mind
Inspired, my mind's fired up with subconscious freestyle rhymes
I fall into my own world, my status is trance like I haven't felt like this in ages, well that is since last night
Like a Sadas with a glass, but I exhale tragedy
And gradually, start to inhale positivity
The dignity in knowing that you have no regrets And everything you have and own is built through your own sweat
And toil, keep it moving, keep on burning midnight oil And as I walk the night, my Nikes leave impressions in the soil
I check for cars and cross the road, cause I've finally found a pay phone
I pick up the receiver and I'm greeted by the dial tone
The night has so much power, I want to be a part of it It's just a light shower and I'm walking through the heart of it

The night time realm, I'm overwhelmed by the atmosphere
My hoody and my headphones are the B-Boy
Battlegear

The night has so much power...

It's just a light shower...

The night time realm...

My hoody and my... (echoes)

[Phone call]

Hello

How you going mate?

It's Matty

Yeah

How you doing?

Not bad, what are you up to?

Um not much man, just kicking back, writing a few rhymes, trying to figure out what to do tonight

About what time?

Whenever man

Alright, we should hook up, I'll drop round

Yeah cool

Alright, umm I'll come around in about an hour then

Yep

Ok

See ya then mate
