Lonely nights were filled with lonely tears
Every dream I owned
Was now slowly drifting away
Being a prisoner of my own fears
Than you gave me hope
And the strength to believe again

There's something magical about you
Can't imagine a day without you

Chorus:
It's summer all over again
With the sun setting in the sky
Drawing me closer to you
Like the moon draws the tide
There's something about your love
That these words can't explain
I need you far from the stars above
It's summer all over again

Something about the way you look at me
Tells me all my dreams
They are still within my reach
No more chains of fear are holding me
Everything I am
Is because you are the key

I think I found in you the meaning
(I think I found in you the meaning)
I don't wanna lose this feeling

Chorus:
It's summer all over again
With the sun setting in the sky
Drawing me closer to you
Like the moon draws the tide
There's something about your love
That these words can't explain
I need you far from the stars above
It's summer all over again

There's something magical about you

Can't imagine a day without you by my side
He's the reason why

It's summer all over again
With the sun setting in the sky
Drawing me closer to you
Like the moon draws the tide
There's something about your love...

Need you far from the stars above
It's summer all over again

Ow-wow yeah
I need you far from the stars above
It's summer all over again...
