Oh yeah, I'm living life with no regrets
They're on their way but ain't here yet
I just left Las Vegas in bad, bad shape

I only call home if I get the chance
Every other night a new romance
Wake up just in time to miss the day

And I'm talking to the man in the mirror
And I think I heard him say

What ya gonna do
When the whiskey ain't working no more
And life don't feel like before
What ya gonna do?

What ya gonna do
When the ride ain't coming no more
Nobody's beatin' down your door
What ya gonna do?

And I'm still cold in Downing Street
But I'm high enough to make believe
That I ain't ever gonna hit the ground

The one that got away from me
Every now and then she calls to see
If I'm alive or plan to settle down

Well, I called her drunk last night
And I think I heard her say

What ya gonna do
When the whiskey ain't working no more
And life don't feel like before
What ya gonna do?

What ya gonna do
When the ride ain't coming no more
Nobody's beatin' down your door
What ya gonna do? What ya gonna do?

Well, I can't sleep, well, I can't hide
Because these voices in my head
Are getting louder, getting louder every night

I'm living life with no regrets
They're on their way but ain't here yet, no

What ya gonna do
When the whiskey ain't working no more
And life don't feel like before
What ya gonna do?

What ya gonna do
When the ride ain't coming no more
Nobody's beatin' down your door
What ya gonna do?

What ya gonna do
When the whiskey ain't working no more
And life don't feel like before
What ya gonna do? What ya gonna do, yeah?

What ya gonna do
When the ride ain't coming no more
Nobody's beatin' down your door
Oh, what ya gonna do?

What ya gonna do
When the whiskey ain't working no more
Life don't feel like before
What ya gonna do?
