I can't remember the last time, that I felt invisible, like I do now. I've got this feeling, it's not the last time, that I will hurt so much.

Child where is your faith why won't you pray? I need to know that you trust me.....

I need to see you walking next to me, walking next to me, walking next to me, on the water (x2)

Why do we still hurt? I know that I'm still breathing, but it's so hard. Where is the comfort that you promised? Is there a way to live my life without the pain? Without the pain?

Child where is your faith why won't you pray? I need to know that you trust me.....

I need to see you walking next to me, walking next to me, walking next to me, on the water (x2)

Depend on me, my child, for the greater good, will come into view. Depend on me, for the greater good, will come into view.

Child where is your faith why won't you pray? I need to know that you trust me.....

I need to see you walking next to me, walking next to me, walking next to me, on the water (x2)
