I have waited for you
Every morning, self-supporting
I deploy and listen for it now

It gets written on your face
And then you go to face it
Let's embrace it or erase it now

Liar, liar, liar

I think that something funny's
Happened to me
I said, I think that something funny's
Happened to me
I said, I think that someone should
Erase this or just face it

This a situation
Understated, complicated
Don't avoid the issue
What's the cause?

It's so written on your face
When you go to face it
Let's embrace it or erase it now
Liar, liar, liar

I think that something funny's
Happened to me
I said, I think that something funny's
Happened to me
I said, I think that someone should
Erase this or just face it

Liar, liar, liar

I was always holding on Involving us, recalling
Waiting for that moment to arrive

Liar, liar, liar

I think that something funny's
Happened to me
I said, I think that something funny's
Happened to me
I said, I think that someone should
Erase this or just face it

I think that someone should erase this
Well, I think that someone should erase this
I think that someone should erase this
I think that someone should erase this
I think that someone should erase this
