You don't know how much I adore
this damp rag soaked in chloroform.
It makes me so hard to ignore cause I could never keep your attention.
I'm not one to make threats.
I've been reduced to promises.
I lie to myself cause I do it best.
I'm not honest with my intentions.

So when the blindfold starts to slip,
and the rope starts to rip,
and I slowly start to give in,
girl you know I'm sorry.

But tonight I'll wait until I know you're fast asleep,
to poison you with memories of you and me.
I pray you die slowly so I can be the last thing you see

You'll see.

Girl you're busy and that's fine
but there's one thing I gotta get off my mind.
I won't take too much of your time
I promise this won't last long, no.
I used to be your biggest fan,
you used to say I was your man.
Now if I can't have you no one can I'll be the last boy you hang up on.

So when the blindfold starts to slip,
and the rope starts to rip,

and I slowly start to give in,
girl you know I'm sorry.

But tonight I'll wait until I know you're fast asleep
to poison you with memories of you and me
I pray you die slowly so I can be the last thing you see

(Oh you'll see.)

She's losing consciousness,

I'm gaining confidence.
It's starting to make sense, woah-oh woah-oh
She's covered in finger prints,
From her lips to her hips.
All I wanted was one more kiss, woah-oh woah-oh

She's losing consciousness,
I'm gaining confidence.
It's starting to make sense, woah-oh woah-oh
She's covered in finger prints,
From her lips to her hips.
All I wanted was one more kiss, woah-oh woah-oh

Tonight I'll wait until I know you're fast asleep
to poison you with memories of you and me.
I pray you die slowly (die slowly) so I can be the last thing you see.
I pray you die slowly (die slowly) so I can be the last thing you see.
I pray you die slowly so I can be the last thing you see.
