"Caught In The Crossfire"

Struck by the feeling that trouble is your destination Feeling the tension that builds all around the frustration
The warning of danger is calling, the fire of friction is burning
The walls are closing in, you're trapped on the inside

CHORUS:

Caught in the crossfire, you're trapped on the inside
Caught in the crossfire

The battle begins when you realize There's no neutral corners in the arena
The war rages you feel the thunder, you're lost amidst all the confusion
You search for a place of seclusion
The anger will find you once again, you're trapped on the inside
