"Down For The Life"

This is my fight for honor
For values I've been given
Don't try to change me, cause
I'm to reborn your fear again

In this fight for life
I resist with all my power
In this endless fight
I will never, never be alone

The righteous path I seek, is the allegiance that I pledge
This is my vow for those who try to put me down

It takes time to find what's lost, to find what's mine
To deal with the past times, to deal with the past times
No one can be above the world, above everything
No one can be my frienemy, not in this life

Don't waste your words for nothing
Down for the choice, down for the life
