All those memories
All in my head again
Just forget about it
What matters in the end?

It's to late now
To overcome
To cover the wounds
What's done it's done

Darkened feelings
Here I go again
Walking the bridges
That joined my life

This is a warning
Before I say goodbye
As you said every morning
Among the beasts of the time

Beware the beast!
This is for real
Beware the beast!
I walk with my shadows

Watching the past breaking
Just as the minutes pass away

End of the day, light's gone
World's collide, death will come
