"Only Love"

you say that you can't take it anymore someone hurt you so you close the door put the lock on your heart and hide the key gonna build yourself a wall of stone gonna live there inside it all alone and you say love's the last thing that you need but every drop or rain that falls makes a flower grow don't give up now, don't give up now baby, don't you know only love can leave you twisted inside only love can make you glad you're alive only love can mend a heart or break it only love can make the tears tumble down only love can turn your whole world around only love, only love so you sacrifice your trusting soul so you can maintain complete control when you're cold as ice you can't get burned there's a chance you'll break each time you fall but when you lose you faith, you lose it all and it's gonan get lonely in your world only love, you can't keep runnin' away only love, you're gonna need it someday only love, don't you know that's what we're here for
