And it's always the same old story
Repeated a thousand times
And everything we say is written in sand with confused lines

And I sing a song about this battle
And later cringe to hear that nothin' is forever
'cause life is really a dope

It's no coincidence
A murder might actually be the best way out

A voice on the phone
Says that my life is a cliché'
Huge flocks of birds
Passed overhead while we wait...

...to I sing a song about this battle
And later cringe to hear
that nothin' is forever
'cause life is really a dope

It's no coincidence
A murder might actually be the best way out
