

Hogwash "As A Day"

Visit "As A Day" on MotoLyrics.com

Time is rolling by...Time is rolling by and our fights have become scars that have survived the tries to hide this suffered page of time.
This suffered page of time disguised as a teen drama changed my life so I tell myself it is not a lie that I want to hear me telling me there's still enough time to clear the wrong things I said to become as bright as a day

IÂ've learned to love my faults so IÂ've earned my secret shame and the price of being a coward puts bitterness into your eyes oh no, another living room plant has died

I don't know how to find the strength I thought I had in the day I said I wanted things back oh the time to be here is not my time if I believe itÂ's not a lie

I never meant to cause you harm and I learned to love this broken car the only place where we talked and smiled

You never meant to steal my time you wanted just a bit part in my life but now I'm just trying to love this empty bed and cry but now I want to hear you telling me there's still enough time to clear

the wrong things I said
to become as bright as a day

Visit Hogwash page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.