So Speak

I hear the words, I look away.

I hear your words, I turn and say.

Read My Lips

I'm done with it.

Read My Lips

I'm done with this.

I'm not as good as you think

Not as bad as you believe

There are better things

There are worse things

How can I look you in the eyes?

Then repeat, repeat!

Where is truth behind a lying tongue?

How can grace come to a failing one?

I wonder around... aimlessly searching

But all that I've found is nothing is working.

You told me again, and over again.

But I won't hear you, I'll find my own way.

Read the lines between the lines

See the life behind these eyes.

We're all seeing through the lies your leading.

You are sinking in the ship your keeping.

You give me everything, I give you nothing in return

You give me everything, I give you nothing

I know and you know, I'm a Failure, I'm a Fraud.

Leave me to drown.
