Mama take me by the hand I'm not that strong
No one wants to hear the words "it won't be long"
Life sure has a funny way of letting go
Thought time was just a healer but it isn't so

It cut's me to the bone to ever see you cry
And I don't want to be the one to say goodbye

What can I do
Tell me it's just a broken, just a broken heart
Bleedin' the truth
Ain't hard when your world is fallin', fallin' all apart
So many dreams that won't come true
Find me a way to see them through
What can I do
Tell me it's just a broken, just a broken heart

Take another piece of me if there's a need
Walk me through the darkness, I will take your lead
Help me find a way to heal this pain inside
I've done all I can do here, still I need more time

I know there's so much more to this than what they say
But in a child's eye, there's got to be a way

What can I do
Tell me it's just a broken, just a broken heart
Bleedin' the truth
Ain't hard when your world is fallin', fallin' all apart
So many dreams that won't come true
Find me a way to see them through
What can I do
Tell me it's just a broken, just a broken heart

So many dreams that can come true
Find me a way to see them through
What can I do
Tell me it's just a broken, just a broken heart

Mama take me by the hand I'm not that strong
No one wants to hear the words "it won't be long"
