You got me thinking something, baby
I ain't into givin up yet.
You bring the kind of lovin,
Makes me turn around and come back again

You take me to a place where I get everything I need
It's just a little more than I expect.

And baby girl you say that you were made for me
And though I can't say I never felt the same thing
And honestly, don't lose your faith in me, yeah
You know you just can't say you never felt the same thing
(I won't be) J-Just another mistake.

I know I hate black coffee but I'm always up for taking a chance
I love you like the weekend, girl,
And Monday ain't coming 'round here yet

You take me to a plce where I get everything I need
It's just a little more than I expect.

And baby girl you say that you were made for me
And though I can't say I never felt the same thing.
And honestly, don't lose your faith in me, yeah
You know you just can't say you never felt the same thing
(I won't be) J-Just another mistake.

I wanna rock, I wanna show the world what I got No I wanna keep on movin' forward believe me or not
Time flies when your head's in the sky
And that look in your eyes makes me wanna break down and cry

Oh damn 'nother sticky situation
Add it up, you ain't part of the equation
In the end I guess it's all about having fun

Stop.

I guess it's up to me again.

Girl, you say that you were made for me.
You know I can't say I never felt the same thing.

And honestly don't lose your faith in me, yeah
You know you just can't say you never felt the same thing

And then you lose me again
You know we'll end up as friends.
And will not bend til I break

You're not another mistake
