In the beginning it went straight to my head
You left me spinning, I fell right out the bedroom
It's a feeling that I'm not really used to Still believing that it'll end up fine

And then it hit me like a song that we once sang
I sing along, it all comes back like a boomerang
And I'm just hoping you don't take the next train
We're gonna end up fine

Our time is right
Right now

Save yourself, I'm gonna try to save me
Make it count, like it's the last time baby
So I will not wait for something else
Until I fall into a new disaster
My happily ever after's right now

And then I go and pull my trust in the feeling
September nights we spent attached to the ceiling
And now I want it more than ever believe me
We're gonna end up fine

Our time is right
Right now

Save yourself, I'm gonna try to save me
Make it count, like it's the last time baby
So I will not wait for something else
Until I fall into a new disaster
My happily ever after's right now

Looking back, the songs we love to sing
Take a breath remember everything
It's all happening, it's all happening
Right now

It's the way I know you love the rain
Day it came and washed us both away
It's all happening, it's all happening right now

Save yourself
Save yourself
Like it's the last time baby
So I will not wait for something else
Until I go fall into a new disaster
My happily ever after's

Save yourself, I'm gonna try to save me
Make it count, like it's the last time baby
So I will not wait for something else
Until I go fall into
I fell into you
And then I go and fall into a new disaster
My happily ever after's right now
