Visit "Walking By" on MotoLyrics.com

It's about the nights we spent locked up inside your room, it's about the morning breaking always just a bit too soon, it's about the way you're scared baby, just maybe I'm aware this is what you need 'cause every time you walk in the room can't help myself

i wanna be with you
hit the mic, quick check, one, two, singing out my lungs just to reach you I'm alive
and I keep my cool one more time and you just keep on walking by

I take a day to tell myself It's gonna end up fine it's all part of some master plan we're all a little lost inside even if i run right now, swore you off,
I'd still come back somehow and here I am now

can't help myself
hit the mic, quick check, one, two,

and you just keep on walking by

I take a day to soak you in for a while I'm hanging on the best I can let go cause maybe if I felt it once Then I could somehow feel it again

can't help myself
hit the mic, quick check, one, two,
singing out my lungs just to reach you

can't help myself
hit the mic, quick check, one, two,
