Hope you don't mind
but I changed my point of view
'Cos now I've found someone new I thought that you knew that I need time to think so I can see my way clear

Hope you don't mind
'cos I got it all confused
Don't think that you've been used It's just today that I don't feel so sure of wanting more

For what it's worth I'm sorry
For what it's worth I still can see the light of day
I still wake up in the night
Don't know if I'm wrong are you right

For what it's worth I'm sorry
For what it's worth I never meant to lead you on And if I'm wrong I'm sorry
Maybe it was meant to be this way

Hope you don't mind
but I got no confidence Forever now don't make no sense I'd try again but it would be pretend So it's the end chorus x2

verse 3
